HIKERS ASSEMBLE FOR SIGHTSEEING

Army Discards Pilgrim's Cloaks and Hats For Frills and Furbelows.

SUDDEN TRANSITION.

Officially "General" Jones's Followers Are Off the Job Until The Parade on Next Monday.

Washington, March 1.—General Rosalie Jones hardly knew her faithful "army" today when the "hikers" assembled for a little sight seeing tour. Everybody—even General Jones herself—had discarded the pilgrims' cloaks and hats for the full glory of feminine frills and furbelows. Manicurist's, hair-dressers, maids and other luxuries had transformed the bedraggled, weary and footsore little band that yesterday limped into Washington after their sixteen day's march from New York.

The "army" planned this afternoon to call at the White House for a glimpse of President Taft. Officially, they are off the job until the suffrage parade on Monday. Then they will don the pilgrims' gowns once more and again follow the donkey cart, as the central figures in the votes for women pageant. This afternoon "General" Rosalie Jones will entertain her faithful army and the "war correspondents" at a tea.

Mrs. A. G. Baird was the only one of the marchers not present today. She took a train back to New York last night, but will be back to march on Monday.

Suffrage headquarters announced today that the horse "Suffragette" would be auctioned off after Monday's parade. She represented an original investment of may be $15 dollars, but has actually gained weight on the amble from New York, and the suffrage cause is expected to be enriched by her sale.

All traffic on Pennsylvania Avenue from the Capitol to the Treasury Building, was prohibited during the hours of the suffrage parade on Monday, by a joint resolution introduced by Senator Sutherland and adopted by the upper house today. The superintendent of police is directed to prevent any interference with the parade.

No Shots From American Vesels.

Washington, March 1.—Denial of the report that shots from the American war vessels off Vera Cruz, Mexico, had injured several natives, was made in a cable received by the Navy Department today from Rear Admiral Fletcher. He said the story had originated from unfounded reports carried in the Vera Cruz newspapers, and declared at the time the battleships under his command were at target practice they were 25 miles off shore.

TWENTY-FIFTH ANNIVERSARY.

Rev. Dr. and Mrs. Jno. Lee Allison observed the twenty-fifth aniversary of their marriage by tendering a reception from 5 to 7 o'clock yesterday afternoon to the members of the Second Presbyterian Church congregation. The manse was artistically decorated with potted plants, narcissus and white carnations, the color scheme, green and white, being carried out both in the parlor and dining room.

The guests being received by Master Herbert O'Meara, were presented to Dr. and Mrs. Allison by Miss Laura Allison and were then ushered into the dining room by Misses Martha and Lillian Allison, where they were graciously served with green and white ices, cakes and bon bons by Misses Mary Glenn Uhler, Marion Kennedy, Marion Negley, Blanche Stansbury, Margaret Howard, Daisy Howell, and Ed.on) Wllwrf rf hmthec sh hr hrddl Florence Schneider, of Washington.

Dr. and Mrs. Allison were the recipients of many nice gifts, notably a case of silver, consisting of spoons, knives and forks from the congregation and friends.

Mr. G. B. Kennedy made the presentation speech.

NEWS OF THE DAY.

A foraging party of 100 Turks was caught in a blizzard Tuesday several miles northwest of Cahatalja, and all perished fro mthe cold.

Capt. A. H. Rostron, who, as commander of the steamship Carpathia, directed the rescue of the survivors of the Titanic disaster, reached Washington yesterday to receive at the hands of President Taft this afternoon in the East room of the White House the gold medal voted by Congress in recignition of his heriic services The medal also reached Washington yesterday, and was placed in President Taft's hands by its designer, John Flannagan, of New York. Captain Rostron also will receive today the American cross of honor which will be presented at the British Embassey by Ambassador Bryce. Mrs. Rostron accompenies the English commander, who since the Titanic disaster has been promoted to a larger ship in the North Atlantic squadrion.

Albert Pelligan, aged 35, a miner at Montel, Md., was held in $2,000 bail by Justice Humbird at Cumberland, yesterday on the charge of mistreating Amelia, his pretty 13-year-old daughter. Revolting accusations were made by the girl. The wife, Lizzie Pelligan, who alleged that she had been beaten also, testified as did Drs. E. B .Claybrook, and J. L. J. Simonton. Pelligan asserts that the accusations are part of a scheme of his wife to railroad him to the penitentiary that she might be free. Pelligan at one time was paroled for thre years, provided he left the state for three years. He came here from Tucker county, W. Va.

The report became general throughout Washington last night that President Taft meant to veto the Department of Labor bill on the theory that it would be bad business to turn the immigration problems of the future over to organized labor leaders. This apprehension on the part of the President seems to have arisen out of the fact that Governor Wilson is said to have decided upon Representative Wilson, of Pennsylvania, as his first secretary of Labor. The Pennsylvania Congressman is a member and officeholder of a labor union.

Two masked burglars were helping themselves to Harry Mills, silverware in Ogdensburg, N. J., early yesterday when Mrs. Mills stole downstairs with a revolver and made them throw up their hands. Then she shouted for Mr. Mills, who, rather than go to the trouble of a long trip through the rain to the county jail, took the burglars one at a time to the front door and kicked them out into the darkness. When he returned to his wife he found her on the floor in a dead faint. She had just discovered that the pistol was not loaded.

The garment workers' strike in New York, in progress since early January, invilving its height 15,000 or more workers, was officially declared of last night. The workers declar cepted the manufacturers' terms,which included a raise in pay, revision of certain working conditions, arbitration as to hours and thc open shop principle.

Thin ice claimed two more victims in Connecticut late yesterday afternoon, when Eva Bode, aged 10, and Jennie Boisselle, aged 12, broke through the ice on Five Mile River and were drowned. Both bodies were recovered. This makes a total of 11 persons, mostly children, drowned in Connecticut within the last two weeks.

Two unidentified negro tramps charged with killing Policeman John Gibby, of Cornelia, Ga., were taken from a posse and lynched early last night by a mob of masked men. Both the negroes were strung up to a telephone pole in the presence of several hundred persons. The negroes came into Cornelia yesterday morning on a freight train and were arrested by a policeman. As Gibby was handcuffing one of them the other took the officers pistol and shot Gibby twice. Death was instantaneous. The negroes fled. Posses were organized, and with the assistance of bloodhounds the fugitives were captured later yesterday. While they were being taken to Clarksville jail a mob of masked men overpowered the posse and lynched the negroes.

MR. TAFT AND THE PHILIPINES

Reiterates His Arguments Against Independence of The Islands.

MAKES LAST APPEAL.

President Reviews His Experience Which, He Thinks, Should Make His Judgment Worth Having.

New York, March 1.—On the eve of his retirement from office, President Taft, in a signed article in the New York Tribune today reiterated his arguments against Phillipine independence and declared that the suggestion was "dangerous, unwise, ill-considered and inadvisable."

"I am glad to make one more appeal for the little brown brother of the Philipines," wrote the president. "It is no more possible to contemplate the proposition to grant independence to the Philipines now or at any specific time without suspecion that a selfish desire to escape responsibility constitutes a large part of the impelling motive, than it is to contemplate the conduct of a father who imposes like responsibility on an immature son without equal distrust."

The president then reviewed at length his experiences in the islands, which he said, make his judgment worth having. He analyzed in great detail the various factors that make up the population of the dependencies and insited that everything possible is now being done to educate the natives toward ultimate self-government. But the process is very slow.

The policy of immediate self-rule he designated as "merely a disguised policy to scuttle" which has its "inception in misinformation and blind prejudice." In conclusion the president said:

"In all sincerity, with malice toward none, with no partisan, bias and only thehonor of the United States, the welfare of the Filipino at heart, I appeal to my successor, to those who cherish fond hopes for the success of his administration, and to the American people whose altruism in their treatment of the Filipinoes has challenged the world, to repudiate this ill-advised proposal and to carry on in the future, as faithfully and if possible more skilfully than it has been in the past the wise policy toward the Philippines which was conceived by William McKinley and which has been steadfastly adhered to by those who have been proud to follow in his footsteps."

STRIKE IN PATTERSON.

Strike Leaders Refuse to Recognize Authority of Police.

Paterson, N. J., March 1.—Officials in charge of the strike of the silk workers today served notice on Mayor McBride and Chief of Police Bimson that they will refuse to recognize the authority of the police to censor thelist of speakers at strike meetings. This action following the arrest of Alexander Scott, editor of the Issue, on a charge of criminal libel preferred by Chief Bimson because he criticized the action of the police department has complicated the situation and disinterested persons frankly admit that they fear serious trouble.

The strikers today refused the suggestion that the matters in controversy be submitted to a committee of three to arbitrate. They declared that the demands were not arbitratible.

One thousand additional dyers in the Weidman shops joined the strikers today completely tying up that establishment. All of the mills closed down at noon today and consequently there was no trouble and none was looked for before tomorrow when the out of doors mass-meeting is scheduled to be held The critical period of the strike is expected Monday when the manufactureres say they will make a determined effort to resume.

In the Corporation Court today a decree was entered in the case of Catharine Amelia Triplett vs. William Thomas Triplett, confirming the report of the commissioner and ordering distribution of proceeds of sale.

MME. MOUNTFORD'S LECTURE.

Rare Treat at Young People's Building Last Night.

The promise of a rare treat to those attending Madam Mountford's lecture at the Young People's Building last night on the Twenty-third Psalm of David was fulfilled to the utmost expectancy. Her talk was delightfully entertaining and wonderfully instructive as her personal knowledge of life in Palestine enabled her to tell of Bible lands and their customs which exist in the present day the same as of yore, in an accurate manner. The various garb of the shepherds "woven without seam" bespeaking their rank, the comforting "rod and staff" and the smal ldouble-edge dagger as their defense, the different kinds of slings carried, the small leathern bucket as the "cup that runneth over" for the afflicted ones of the flocks the lunch pouch, the "reed played by the wind," (the breath of man"),were very interesting to see and to learn of. The calling of the flocks to the "green pastures and still waters" was very realistic ,and Madame Mountford's impersonation of the shepherd's character was received with enthusiasm.She spoke of the lack of appreciation of David whose wonderful ability would only be comprehended when at some future date, the two hundred different musical instruments made by his own hands were unearthed.

No literature, either prose or poetry, could ever be compared with his authorship, and his followers eight thousand strong, playing upon his own hand-made instruments and trained singers bespeak his leadership.

Most touching was Madam Mountford's describing of the little hundredt lamb. Her reading "between the lines" of the twenty-third Psalm gave food for thought for all of her hearers.

The lecture was given under the auspices of the Alexandria free kindergarten, and was largely attended.

SCOUTS IN WASHINGTON.

Boys of Alexandria Selected for Duty at Inaugural Grandstands.

Scout Commissioner E. S. Martin, of Washington, has appointed troop No. 1, of this city, to take charge of the grand stands located on the avenue betwee 3rd and 5th streets, and 7th and 9th streets. The scouts will be used as first aid to the injured and keep a sharp lookout for any accident or emergency and report the same to the nearest ambulance station.

Scout Commissioner Harry W .Rudd of this city, has issued the following orders to his troop:

"The duties which you, as Scouts, are to perform on Inauguration Day are in a line with the Scout training for public service. Your Scout Commissnioner earnestly requests that you remember the scout virtues of obedience, loyalty, faithfulness, cheerfulness, thoughtfulness, helpfulness, on this important occasion. No matter how small your part may appear to you, if done in accordance with your scout laws it is of great value to all concerned. No good scout should accept a tip under any circumstances for services rendered. You are therefore placed on your honor as scouts to courteously refuse to accept same."

SONORA IS STILL SCENE OF REVOLT

Public Opinion in Capital City Rapidly Turning to Porfirio Diaz.

PICTURES RESTORED.

Return of Former President Eagerly Awaited by Thousands of People of Mexico.

Mexico City, March 1.—With the surrender of Alberto Fuentes D., rebellious governor of Aguascallientes, about the only remaining serious revolt against the Huerta regime today is in Sonora and it was the belief of the Diaz-Huerta adherents that the implied endorsement of the Huerta government in the message from Porfirio Diaz, would go along way toward removing all grave opposition to the present government. Public opinion in the capital is rapidly turning to Porfirio Diaz. The restoration by order of the administration of his pictures to the schools, libraries and public buildings has been greeted with enthusiasm. The return of the aged ex-president is eagerly awaited by thousands, and there are some who confidently predict that Porfirio Diaz will be president of Mexico. The more conservative, though, think that General Felix Diaz will be president and that his uncle, if he returns will act only as his nephew's adviser, and refuse all official recognition.

Federal troops now are operating in all of the disaffected states and it is said that practically all of them with the exception of Sonora, have been pacified. The Zapataistas have not surrendered, but it was said today that negotiations with them were progressing satisfactorily and that an ultimate agreement would be reached.

CARDINAL FLAYS HIKERS.

Calls Them "Noisy Clamorous And Spectacular."

Baltimore, March 1.—"Noisy, clamororus and spectacular" were the terms used yesterday by Cardinal Gibbons in describing the recent visit of the hiking suffragists to this city. He was speaking before the Woman's Auxiliary of the St. Raphael Institute.

"I wish to say a few words of unstinted praise in behalf of the noble and modest women who have devoted their lives to the sisterhood and the service and uplift of the poor. They labor zealously from early until late. I do not know what the church would do without the aid of the women who are willing to sacrifice their time and money that it might advance.

"Here we have true women; women who know their place. There are among the women in the auxiliary many who have homes that are models, devoting their time to bringing up their children in the fear and love of God.

"Then look at the other picture in contrast. On one hand we see good accomplished in a quiet, modest way. On the other we see the noisy, clamorous and spectacular way of other women, and as an example of this I point to the hikers who were among you a few days ago. I beg to thank you ladies for aiding the sisters and for partaking in the work that they are so unobstrusively accomplishing."

When seen at his home the Cardinal added that he had been much annoyed by the reports spread about the country that in receiving the hikers he had indorsed their cause.

"I am not in favor of suffrage now, nor was I when I received the hikers," said the Cardinal. "I did not say on any occasion that they reminded me of Joan of Arc, nor did I compare their sacrifice with that of the noble woman of France.

"It seems that hey have let it be understood that I urged the national Congress to hear their plea. I said nothing of the kind. I did say that if the national Congress should give them a hearing,' with a decided accent on the 'if.' Press reports to the West seemed to have left out the 'if.'

CLERK COMMITS SUICIDE AT FORT

Assistant Quartermaster Ends Life Because He Had Been Sick.

HAD SUFFERED LONG.

Shoots Himself in His Quarters and Expires Before he Could be Placed In Hospital.

C. W. Baines, sixty years old, chief clerk to the quartermaster at Fort Myer, shot and killed himself shortly afternoon yesterday in his quarters at the fort. Baines aimed at his heart, but the bullet entered his body just below that organ and passed through his abdomen. He died on the way to the hospital. Ill health is given as the cause for suicide.

Baines was a native of New Orleans, where his wife and several grown children now live. He had been employed in the quartermaster's department at Fort Meyer for many years, and haa a great many friends and acquaintances in Alexandria.

For several months Baines has been suffering with a malady which he believed incurable, and had often remarked to his friends that life was hardly worth living to a man who suffered as he did. The suicide, however, came as a shock to all who knew him.

At noon yesterday Baines went to his room, and evidently laid down for a short while. He then procured a service revolver and sho thimself. The shot was heard by passersby and his door was broken open.

The funeral will take place tomorrow from Fort Meyer with military honors. The interment will be in Arlington cemetery.

The remains were prepared for burial by W. Demaine & Son, of this city.

HEALTH OFFICE NOTES.

At the City Health Office it is stated that at a recent inspection it was observed that one of the smallest dairies in Alexandria county had a negro woman in their employ who was found to be afflicted with tuberculosis As this woman was working around the milk rooms, coming in close contact with the milk, most of which was being sold to consumers in Alexandria, the health officials took immediate steps for the removal of the woman and warned the dairyman to take precautions in the proper conduct of his dairy in future. A close watch is being maintained over this particular dairy.

Complaints from property owners and citizens of Alexandria made to the Health Department are valueless unless the parties making the complaint are willing to appear as witnesses and to assist the health department officials in the discharge of their duties.

PREPARE FOR INAUGURAL.

Ample Transportation Facilities Will be Afforded Monday and Tuesday of Next Week

As has been stated, the railway and steamboat companies have anticipated the heavy demands which will be made for the transportation between Alexandria and Washington on Monday and Tuehday next. Most of the people of Alexandria desire to visit the capital city either Monday or Tuesday. The suffragette parade may prove an interesting feature before the drama of inauguration, and many are as anxious to witness the appearance of the women as the masculine display next day.

The electric railway company has announced that a five-minute schedule will be in operation, and the officials of two steamboat companies have arranged to run ferry boats during the day and early part of the night.

The people of Alexandria who wish to visit Washington next Monday and Tuesday to witness the parades and ceremonies will therefore have ample facilities. One company has arranged to operate a boat both Monday and Tuesday, from 9 a. m., until midnight, and another company will have a special boat Tuesday for four round trips.

With this service the Alexandria people can get to and from their homes almost at will. It is estimated that from 8,000 to 10,000 persons will visit Washington from Alexandria and the surrounding country on the 3rd and 4th.

EWS OF THE OLD DOMINION.

O BOY HELD FOR CRIME.

d With Shooting Youth's Head off Over Crap Game.

, Va., March 1.—Arthur egro, 12 years old, is in jail on the charge of shooting and ing Russell Foster, colored, 17 years old, in a dispute over a crap game last Wednesday afternoon at Churchview, this county.

Boyd continues to assert that a stranger fired the fatal shot, which tore away part of Foster's head, and there is only circumstantial evidence, but the coroner's jury which held an inquest Wednesday evening returned a verdict which charged Boyd with the shooting.

The two boys were alone in the house of John Ferguson, colored, at the time. Becoming enraged, the Boyd boy is said to have seized a shotgun from a rack and blazed away at Foster, who was only four or five feet off.

The first information received by an outsider of the homicide was given by Boyd, who went to the house of Charles Bray, deputy treasurer of the county, about 400 yards away, and told him that a stranger had entered the Ferguson house and shot Foster. Mr. Bray questioned the boy and then telephoned for Sheriff R. B. Segar, who made the arrest.

SPEAKER BYRD WILL RETIRE.

Rumor Has it That he is Slated for Federal Appointment.

Va., March 1.—The of the Virginia House of generally regarded as sec- the Governorship in im- nd influence, will not be next session of the Gene- mbly by Richard Evelyn Winchester, who has occu- office for a number of announcement is made here yrd's newspaper, the Even- that he will not again accept nation as a member of the of Delegates from Winchester rederick county.

an interview in Richmond nearly ar ago, Mr. Byrd made a similar ment, but when he was chosen anage the Woodrow Wilson cam- n in Virginia there were many it seems, got the impression that may have considered the matter. r. Byrd has been a member of the use for eight years and has served ee terms as Speaker. While some the reforms he undertook to have acted failed because of apparent position in the Senate, there are any to his credit, and it is gener- ly admitted that he is one of the st informed men on politics and ate government in Virginia.

In the article announcing Mr. yrd's retirement it was also stated at many of the leading party men e urging John M. Steck, of the inchester bar, to become a candi- e to succeed Mr. Byrd. While Mr. ck has not made a positive state- nt as to his intentions, it is gen- ly believed that he will yield to wishes of the party leaders.

t has been reported for some time st that President Wilson will ap- nt Mr. Byrd United States Attor- for the Western district of Vir- ia, which is made up of the Fifth, th, Seventh, Eighth, Ninth and th Congressional districts. Mr. rd's name has also been considered h other offices in recognition of vices during the campaign and in Baltimore Convention, when at a ical moment he suddenly threw the ire Virginia delgation into the Wil- olumn.

HUSBAND PUNISHED.

Wronged Wife Refuses to Shake Widow's Hands.

Richmond, March 1.—Lindsay White, of Richmond, who, according to his wife's allegation, deserted her a year ago, and who was arrested Saturday in Cincinnati in company with a handosme widow on his wife's complaint, was sentenced Thursday to sixty days at hard labor in the Cincinnati workhouse. The woman in the case—Mrs. Virginia Featherstone—who was arrested at the same time, was not convicted, the case against her being nol prossed.

What further action Mrs. White will take against her errant husband after he has served two months in stripes on Cincinnati rock piles remains to be seen; it is probable, if extradition laws permit, that she will have him brought back to Richmond and endeavor to have the courts put him under bond to make a stipulated allowance for her support.

Mrs. White for some time has kept a rooming house in this city. It is understood by neighbors that her husband had been forced to go West for his health's sake and his absence caused little comment. At any rate Mrs. White kept tab on his movements, and a week ago she journeyed to Cincinnati and with the aid of a private detective agency located her husband in company with Mrs. Featherstone Saturday and had both arrested. White, who is forty-three years old, is traveling representative of a Chicago publishing house, and the woman in the case, who is thirty-eight, is said to be very handsome, hailing from Frankfort, Ky. She told the police and the judge who heard the case that White had posed as a single man.

As Mrs. White was leaving the court room she met Mrs. Featherstone, who extended her hand to the wronged wife, in a suave effort to smooth matters over, and Mrs. White replied:

"Never will I shake hands with you."

SAVED IN BREECHES BUOY.

Captain And Crew of Schooner Which is Wrecked.

Norfolk, Va., March 1.—Captain Scranton and seven men composing the crew of the three-masted schooner Zaccheus Sherman were rescued from that vessel in a breeches buoy late yesterday afternoon by life savers of the Gull Shoals, New Inlet, Kinnaket and Chicamicomico stations.

The schooner stranded during a 70-mile southwest gale on Gull Shoals, near Hatteras, last night and was sighted by the life savers early yesterday. The Sherman was lumber laden and bound to New York from Charleston. She is a total loss.

Death of Frederick W. Page.

Charlottesville, Va., March 1.—Frederick W. Page, former librarian of the University of Virginia, died Thursday night in his eighty-seventh year. Mr. Page was the son of Dr. Mann Page and Jane Frances Walker. His first wife, whom he married in 1850, was Anne Kinloch, daughter of Dr. Thomas W. Merriweather, of Kinloch, Albemarle county, and Anne Carter Nelson, a granddaughter of Governor Thomas Nelson, of Yorktown. The second Mrs. Page was Lucy Cooke Beale, whom he married as the Widow Brent. His third wife survives him. She was Mrs. Bryan, of Memphis, Tenn.

Bandits Attack Freight.

Masked men held up a fast freight on the Norfolk & Western Railroad Thursday night at Alweick, 35 miles from Williamson, W. Va., Two of the bandits i tis believed were wounded in a revolver duel, and considerable plunder was secured by the men.

The scene of the hold up is an isolated mountain spot. Evidently the bandits believed they were stopping a passenger train. Wire communication tion was cut apparently by the robbers, and only meagre details have been received.

From what has been learned the masked men flagged the train. When they discovered that it was a freight, they opened fire, shooting into the freight cars and sending a steady shot along either side of the train. After the first shock the crew returned shot for shot. Two of the three men who attacked the train were seen to fall, but aided by the third bandit, regained their feet and retreated up a mountain side, all the while shooting at the train crew.

Warnings were sent to nearby points by messengers. Last night many persons had volunteered to hunt down the men, and posses are scattered throughout the mountains.

$95,000 BID FOR CHURCH.

Edgar Allan, Jr., Makes Offer for Richmond Property.

Richmond, March 1.—Grace street Presbyterian Church members will assemble next Wednesday night to consider a concrete proposition to dispose of its present property at Fourth and Grace streets.

An offer has been pending for some time. The officials of the church have been discussing the matter quietly.

The church has a frontage of eighty-seven feet on Grace street and a depth of about 130 feet.

A cash offer has been made for the property at $95,000. The offer was made by Edgar Allan, jr., postmaster of Richmond. It has been held in abeyance for sometime because of Mr. Allan's critical illness. Negotiations have been resumed.

Mr. Allan already owns the property adjoining the church on the east. The offer comes because of the desirability of the property for business purposes.

Officers of the church are not disposed to publicly discuss the matter of selling the property, which has long been their house of worship—even of their fathers and mothers. Yet they realize that the day is not far distant when the trend westward will have taken a vast majority of the members far beyond the present location of the church.

ATTEMPTED MURDER.

Tries to Elope With Sixteen-Year-Old Girl.

Marion, Va., March 1.—Marion was the scene of a sensation a few nights ago, due to the attempted elopement of Stephen Putney, thirty-five years of age, and Marguerite, the pretty sixteen-year-old daughter of C. F. Thomas, a wealthy merchant. Mr. Thomas tried to kill Putney at the depot at Marion, having fired five shots at the fleeing man, after the latter had alighted from a train on the Norfolk and Western Railway, when he had been interrupted by an officer in his intended flight to Bristol with Miss Thomas. The father of the girl was interfered with by persons nearby and this probably accounts for the shots which he aimed at Putney going wild. Mr. Thomas was accompanied by his son, and the latter and his father took Miss Thomas in charge an descorted her home. Putney made his escape.

Putney has been confined in the Southwestern State Hospital for the Insane, having been sent here from Wytheville as the result of the killing of his uncle, in which he is said to have been involved. Putney was after a time, given liberties about the asylum and was permitted to play baseball in the town. It was during his visits to the town that he met Miss Thomas, but nobody dreamed that he might arrange to elope with the girl.

Salves Can't Cure Eczema

In regard to skin diseases, medical authorities are now agreed on this: Don't imprison the disease germs in your skin by the use of greasy salves, and thus encourage them to multiply. A true cure of all eczematous diseases can be brought about only by using the healing agents in the form of a liquid.

WASH THE GERMS OUT.

A simple wash. A combination of Oil of Wintergreen, Thymol, and other ingredients, all combined in the D.D.D. prescription. This penetrates to the disease germs and destroys them, then soothes and heals the skin as nothing else has ever done.

A 50 cent bottle will start the cure and give you instant relief.

We have made fast friends of more than one family by recommending this D.D.D. Prescription to a skin sufferer here and there, and we want you to try it now on our positive pay guarantee. D.D.D. Soap keeps the pores clean; ask us.

SENATOR MARTIN RETIRES FROM RACE.

Senator Thomas S. Martin, of Virginia yesterday withdrew as a candidate for re-election as Democratic floor-leader in the Senate. In a conference with his colleagues he stated that he did so "that there might be no friction, and the Democratic party could start in full control of the Senate with absolute harmony."

Dr. Samuel Johnson's tribute to his friend Pelham has often been quoted when great and good men have become modern Ephimanondases:

Let others hail the rising sun,
I bow to that whose course is run.

The above is applicable in the case of the Virginia Senator.

It is a well-known fact that a thrice defeated candidate for president is the spirit which has caused this rupture in the party which has but two majority in the United States Senate, and it is an earnest of what may be expected from that quarter during the next four years.

Shortly after the civil war, when the late Horace Greely assumed surveillance over the proceedings of Congress, the late Thaddeus Stevens introduced a measure which at first seemed to meet with the approval of his radical colleagues. It was referred to a committee, but when brought before the House of Representatives, it developed that a majority were averse to its passage. Stevens, outspoken as he was, had learned that Greeley had visited Washington, and the Pennsylvanian was satisfied the editor had spiked his gun. Stevens arose flashing fire, and addressing the speaker, said:

"This bill met the approval of the majority of this House until a scarecrow from New York arrived here. Its supporters scampered at his approach and have left me alone as the patron of the bill."

While we hope for better things from the new Congress, the above incident is suggestive. If the Democratic members of Congress are to don collars before the caucus gathers, it is an ill omen. But enough of this. We prefer to be optimists and hope for the best.

The more aggressive of the progressives seemingly are about to go to their ne plus ultra, demanding that Senators Simmons, Martin, Bacon, Tillman and Bankhead, all of whom they class as conservatives or reactionaries, shall be deposed, and their chairmanships filled by men more in harmony with the spirit of the new and militant Democracy.

Referring to Senator Martin's withdrawal Senator Stone said

"I regret this controversy. Two years ago, in view of the situation then before us, I cast my vote for Senator Shivley for caucus chairman, as against Senator Martin. At that time the contest did not involve any question of personal party loyalty. This year the contest seems to have proceeded on a line of differentiation between classes or kinds of Democrats. I have regarded this line as artificial and arbitrary, and that a contest of this kind is calculated to excite personal bitterness, at a time, when having only two majority, we should have sought to create a cohesive, militant organization. Senator Martin as chairman could not have been fairer."

Senator Gallinger added this tribute to Senator Martin:

"The retirement of Senator Martin from the leadership of the Democratic side of the chamber is a matter of sincere regret to me. During the time he has held that position he has won the regard and esteem of every Republican senator. Courteous, kind and considerate at all times and under all circumstances his political opponenets have learned to know him as a man of high integrity and great ability, whose retirement from the leadership of his party in the Senate will be a distinct loss to both the Senate and the country."

RETROCESSION RECEIVES ANOTHER BLACK EYE.

In an opinion to President Taft Attorney General Wickersham yesterday declared he felt unable to begin proceedings in the Supreme Court to turn back to the District of Columbia territory across the Potomac now part of Virginia. Mr. Wickersham did not agree with the argument that the Congress which restored the territory to Virginia had no right to do so without a constitutional amendment.

He said in conculsion: "Aside from this, it appears to me that the matter is one which should be left to the next administration; that it would savor of great impropriety if such a suit should be inaugurated at the last moment as this administration is passing out and the new one coming in."

Attorney General Wickersham declared further he was strongly of the opinion that Congress might at any time remove the Capitol of the United States to any place it deemed expedient.

The above will, for a time at least, put a stop to the spread of retrocession fever, which ever and anon afflicts certain residents of Alexandria county as well as a corporal's guard of people who live in this city. Mr. Wickersham affirms the opinions of lawyers in Alexandria who from the first have failed to see upon what grounds an action for retrocession could be based.

It developed in Congress recently that the District of Columbia would be compelled to pay a debt of many millions of dollars incurred under the Shepherd regime in beautifying Washington shortly after the close of the civil war. This sent a shiver down the backs of Alexandrians who had previously favored retrocession. Convalesence from the malady set in at once. Mr. Wickersham's announcement is calculated to stamp out the plague entirely.

MR. WEATHERMAN.

Tell us, Mr. Weatherman, what you're going to serve
To our patient readers Tuesday next,
Of course, the weather's going to be as good as I deserve,
But many times my spirits you have vexed
With reports of fair and clear, when it rained and blew,
And I caught the rheumatiz and grippe,
When you told me that 'twould be warm and sunny too,
My moustache froze tightly on my lip.

I remember well enough just four years ago.
How you said the Fourth would be quite grand,
And I also recollect 'bout three feet of snow,
And a wind that blew to beat the band.
Then pneumonia laid me low and put me in my bed,
And I had to live on soup and pills
Since then I have suffered from a misery in my head
And forty'leven different kind of ills.

So now, Mr. Weatherman, I'm interested, you bet,
In the kind of weather you'll predict,
If you can't improve upon the kind that's cold and wet,
Then it's just 'bout time you were licked.
When Woodrow rides to power 'neath the Court of Honor's arch,
Will you have the weather sunny, bright or gray?
Will it be snow or rain or hail upon the 4th of March,
Or be a fair Inauguration Day? ?

Would you rather be in the hands of your friends or in the hands of a receiver?

Why does City Council remind us of Mexico? Answer: Because it can be just as peaceful at times as Mexico, can be, at times.

The baseball clubs are paying big salaries to men they call "scouts," who go out on the back lots of the smaller towns to find "likely youngsters." Why can't we get jobs as scouts, old scout?

As security for a $22 loan, Mrs. Esther Graham, 21 years old a deserted bride, of St. Louis, pledged in writing her "body, soul and whole life," to C. H. Aulabaugh, aged 55. The money was due and Aulabaugh called at the young woman's boarding place to see about collectin. it. She did not have the money, and he then reminded her of the terms of the note she had signed. Her sister, Mrs. Hazell Driscoll, in another room, heard the conversation, in which the man's protestations of love were strangely mingled with demands for his money. Then Mrs. Graham entered her sister's room and said: "Where is my wedding ring?" She did not find the ring, and returned to the hallway, where she spoke to Aulabaugh again. Then she cried out he had stabbed her, and the sister found her on the floor, a knife wound in her abdomen, while she heard the man slamming the front door. Aulabaugh was arrested more than an hour later at the Burlington hotel and slashed histhroat as he stood in the Dayton street police station with the same longbladed jackknife with which he had attacked the young woman. He is recovering at the city hospital. Mrs. Graham is not expected to live.

Gymanasium Burned.

Lexington, Va., March 1.—The gymnasium at Washington and Lee University was burned yesterday morning. The fire was discovered about 6 o'clock and the alarm attracted a large crowd. The Lexington Volunteer Firemen responded promptly, but the flames had gotten too much headway to be controlled. THIS LADY'S GOOD APPETITE

Mrs. Hansen, In a Letter From Mobile, Tells How She Gained It.

Mobile, Ala.—"I suffered for seven years, with womanly trouble," writes Mrs. Sigurd Hansen in a letter from this city. "I felt weak and always had a headache and was always going to the doctor. At last I was operated on, and felt better, but soon I had the same trouble.

My husband asked me to try Cardui. I felt better after the first bottle, and now, I have a good appetite and sleep well. I feel fine, and the doctor tells me I am looking better than he ever saw me."

If you are sick and miserable, and suffer from any of the pains due to womanly trouble—try Cardui.

Cardui is successful because it is composed of ingredients that have been found to act curatively on the womanly constitution.

For more than fifty years, it has been used by women of all ages, with great success. Try it. Your druggist sells it.

SUNNY BROOK
THE—PURE FOOD—WHISKEY

To arrive at the top in any department of commercial effort one must produce, offer and do better than has been produced, offered or done before. Fifty years ago we determined that Sunny Brook must be the finest whiskey distilled and aged in Old Kentucky and we have never deviated from this policy. Today we are known as the largest distillers of fine old whiskies in the world.

Sunny Brook reached the top because it surpassed all others in mellow flavor, exquisite bouquet and tonic properties. The friends Sunny Brook made fifty years ago because of its high quality and purity are still its friends, and all over this broad land a majority of the discriminating public demands Sunny Brook and absolutely refuses substitutes of any kind. Sunny Brook is a real honest, straight Kentucky Whiskey and is bottled in bond. Every bottle is filled and then sealed with the "Green Stamp," under the direct supervision of U. S. Inspectors. If you want to know you are getting the best always ask for Sunny Brook—The Pure Food Whiskey. READ THE LABEL

BROOKLYN TABERNACLE BIBLE STUDY ON

HOPE FOR THE SODOMITES.

Genesis 19:12-17, 23-29—March 9.

"Come ye out from among them, and be ye separate, saith the Lord, and touch no unclean thing."—2 Corinthians 6:17.

WHEN Abraham was ninety-nine years old—in 2021 B. C.—his encampment was at Hebron. There the Lord and two angels appeared to him as men. He knew them not, but entertained them. (Hebrews 13:2.) The one called the Lord was doubtless the Logos, subsequently man's Redeemer. The Lord on this occasion told Abraham that Ishmael would not be the heir of the Promise, but that shortly Sarah would have a son. The next year Isaac was born.

As Abraham walked a little distance with his visitors, he learned who they really were, and that the destruction of Sodom was imminent. Nobly and generously he petitioned God's Mercy on the Sodomites. The Lord gave assurance that if there were even ten righteous in Sodom, it would be spared.

"Sarah shall have a son."

Thus of the Sodomites and the antediluvians God made illustrations of the great lesson, "All the wicked will He destroy." We are to remember that these are not illustrations of eternal torment, but of destruction. These merely passed into destruction a few years sooner than ordinarily; for the death sentence passed upon humanity in Adam. But since "Jesus Christ by the grace of God tasted death for every man," all of Adam's children will eventually come from the tomb.

"And Delivered Righteous Lot."

St. Peter informs us that Lot was not in sympathy with his surroundings. (2 Peter 2:7, 8.) The flight of Lot, with his wife and two unmarried daughters, is simply told in our lesson. The intimation of verse 29 is that God's Mercy toward Lot was because of his relationship to Abraham. This view is consistent with all Scriptural statements on the subject.

Adam's entire race was condemned to death in him. Hence Divine Justice owed them nothing. Divine Mercy had entered into a special Covenant with Abraham, but that Covenant extended to none others, except Abraham's seed. Therefore Lot's relationship to Abraham was the only reason why God should favor him.

"There's a Wideness in God's Mercy."

This does not signify that God is merciless, but that, having provided a way by which He will exercise Mercy, He rarely exercises it outside of that channel. The channel of God's Mercy is Christ Jesus, who declared, "No man cometh unto the Father but by Me." St. Peter substantiates this statement. See Acts 4:12. The Scriptures clearly teach that none were saved until Jesus died. This is the key which unlocks the wonders of God's grace even though to some the statement may seem astounding.

We should rid ourselves of the thought that the holy men of the past went to Heaven, and the remainder of mankind to eternal torture. The Bible most distinctly declares that all, both good and bad, "slept with their fathers." They still sleep, awaiting the time when Abraham's Seed (Galatians 3:16, 29) will be completed, and set up God's Kingdom on earth, overthrow sin and death, and deliver the captives from the tomb.

The First, or Chief Resurrection.

The First Resurrection began with our Lord Jesus and is not yet complete; for all the Elect are to share both His sacrificial death and His resurrection. These will reign with Christ a thousand years, and as the Seed of Abraham, fully empowered, will bless all those redeemed by the precious blood of Calvary.—Revelation 20:4.

St. Paul emphasizes this point in Hebrews 11:38-40, declaring that while the Ancient Worthies received indications of God's favors, nevertheless that favor can come only through Christ. Consequently they cannot reach everlasting life until the Spiritual Seed of Abraham shall have been completed. Jesus also attested that they had not gone to Heaven, saying, "No man hath ascended up to Heaven."—John 3:13.

Flight of Lot.

Hope For the Sodomites.

The hope for the Sodomites is exactly the same as that for the remainder of mankind. The hope of the world is the Messianic Kingdom, and the deliverance from sin and death which it will effect. The basis of hope for both Church and world is the one sacrifice at Calvary.

Jesus declares that it will be more tolerable for Sodom and Gomorrah in the Judgment Day (the thousand years of His reign) than for those of His day who rejected Him. This clearly shows that the fate of the Sodomites is not sealed. We also find abundant testimony in Ezekiel 16:46-63 that the Sodomites will be awakened from death, and brought to a knowledge of God and to an opportunity of obtaining human perfection and everlasting life, through the Messiah—the Seed of Abraham—by willing obedience to the laws of the Messianic Kingdom.

SHE GOT RID OF HIM

By HELEN MILLER.

"Some men are born persistent," remarked Miss Pearl Fattershall to the stenographer from across the hall, as they ate their noon sandwiches together behind the files. "It nearly drives a girl crazy trying to discourage 'em. I don't know whether they are so stuck on themselves they can't believe any human woman wouldn't choke to death with joy at being noticed by them or whether they are just ordinary stupid. Believe me, I know—after Mr. Blewer!"

"Who's he?" asked the stenographer from across the hall.

"Him?" inquired Miss Fattershall, poising the remnants of her ham sandwich daintily in the air. "Why, Mr. Blewer is the only one out of captivity, that's who he is—and he just wailed for handcuffs put on by me, but I couldn't see it that way—not with the prospect of Jimmy's getting more pay after New Year's! Mr. Blewer is tall and looks as though he was varnished. You know that kind—varnished collar an' cuffs, an' hair an' teeth an' everything!

"I don't believe he ever sat down after his clothes were pressed till he got to our house. I never saw such a perfectly immaculate man. There wasn't a thing to object to in that line. He was always just right and I guess that's why he made me so tired.

"He's manager for the third floor at Pickle's factory and he can take a taxi whenever he wants to. That kind of dazzled me at first after hanging to a street car strap all the way home, but constant luxury soon palls.

"I treated that man to more varieties of snubs that you could count and he just hung around all the steadier. When I snapped his head off he merely murmured that he liked my sparkling vivacity and when I sulked he admired my dignified reserve. I for got engagements with him and he kept right on asking me. Why, do you know, if I ever forgot to keep an engagement with Jimmy he'd drop me like a hot potato! You can't fool with Jimmy! But Mr. Blewer, he just came right on. I'd keep him waiting an hour while I dressed and when I came down, instead of his gnawing his cane with rage, I'd find him comfortably reading a last month's magazine.

"If he brought me flowers I'd pin them on so they'd drop and get lost before we were a block away and when it was candy I always gave it to my little brother before him, saying I couldn't eat that variety of bunbuns. No, I wasn't ashamed of myself, because he might have had less conceit and more sense! A perfect lady hasn't much of any way of telling a man he's a bore and a back number with her except by the indirect lighting system—and if he's as blind as a bat that isn't her fault!

"Well, I had to get rid of Mr. Blewer somehow, because Jimmy was beginning to paw the air and breathe hard and I didn't want any duel on our front doorstep an' my picture in the papers labeled, 'Beautiful an' wealthy society girl, heroine of a romance!' Not for me! I have a little pride left!

"How do you suppose I got rid of Mr. Blewer—now, honest? Perfectly simple, my dear, and I'm telling you in case you get desperate some time, same as I was. I suddenly began dropping hints to him what a wonderfully fine cook I was and how I hated pounding a typewriter all day when my soul just longed for a gas range and a sack of flour and a recipe book. I said the dream of my life was to have time to cook delicious things that would melt in your mouth and that sometimes when I could persuade mother to go and visit her sister I got the dinner.

"He actually stuttered trying to say fast enough that he'd like so much to be invited to one of my own dinners some time, and after hesitating coyly I said he might have the chance soon.

"Mother is peculiar—she's so frightfully honest—so I had to get her out of the house before I could turn the trick. She nearly gave me heart disease the last minute by saying she guessed she wouldn't go to Aunt Jessie's that day after all—but I finally got her started. Maybe I didn't rush home from the office that night! I told my kid brother and sister that if they so much as peeped at anything they had to eat that night I was no longer a sister of theirs—and then I set to work.

"Sugared the soup and spilled the saltbox into the boiled cabbage and burned the meat till it was like leather and flavored the gravy with vanilla. I'd bet no cannonball was ever harder'n the biscuit I turned out and I made an apple pie that was lumpy and half done inside and not sweet enough and with a doughy tough crust—and if there's anything worse than that I'd hate to have to eat it!

"Oh, it was a splendid dinner of its kind and I heaped that Blewer man's plate. I made him eat two helpings of everything—there was plenty because the kids couldn't swallow a thing and stared at me so bewildered at the handout sister had cooked, I nearly died laughing inside!

"Toward the pie Mr. Blewer began getting pale and soon after he said he must be going. I told him I had so enjoyed having him see what I could do in the culinary line and he said yes, it had been a wonderful an' illuminating experience. And he hasn't been near me since! Not once! What do you think of that?"

"I think you probably killed the poor man with your cooking," replied the stenographer from across the hall.—Chicago Daily News.

FAVORITES LONG AGO

RECIPES THAT HAVE STOOD THE TEST OF TIME.

"Mother's" Sand Tarts Deservedly Eulogized—German Puffs as They Should Be Made—Extra Savory Cocoanut Jumbles.

Mothers are like babies, they are the proper gender of "it" in the eyes of their families. However, the opinion that mother is an excellent cook has been shared by all who have been guests at our board. Housework has never ceased to be a novelty to her, and it has always seemed to be her desire to tickle the palates and hearts of her children. And she has succeeded admirably.

The other day when we were looking over some of the old recipe books, the reminiscent mist that covered her eyes was followed by a happy gleam at the thought of the pleasure each savory formula has given.

It has always seemed that mother's concoctions are a little different from the ordinary housewife's. I know that they are, for the dear old soul is "deliciously" original, knowing the proper ingredient to add in order to make the mixture doubly good. Her sand tarts are one of the most precious tidbits.

This is the recipe: One pound of flour, one pound of sugar, one pound of butter, one or two eggs to make the mixture a dough, a dash of cinnamon; strew blanched almonds on top of the cakes.

This is an especially old way of making German puffs. Mother could hardly refresh her memory from the faded pages, but of course she almost knows it by heart, for at each Yuletide she makes the "goodies" over and over again. This is it: One pint of milk, four eggs, four tablespoons full of flour, two tablespoons full of butter. Bake in cups. When baked sift sugar over tops.

Grandmother gave this cocoanut jumble recipe to our family: One cup of butter, two cups of sugar, three cups of flour, two eggs, one cocoanut; cream the butter and sugar, and then add eggs until light; add cocoanut; then flour. Roll on board lightly with hand and shape into rings. Keep about a half of cup of flour for rolling.

Here is a cinnamon cake combination that is rich and delicious: One-half pound of butter, one pound of brown sugar, two eggs, one ounce of cinnamon, flour to make a stiff dough, roll thin.

These directions for the making of spice cakes were given before "the cost of living" was known: Three pounds of brown sugar, two and a half pounds of butter, nine eggs, two teaspoonfuls of cinnamon, one nutmeg, three teaspoonfuls of pearl ash dissolved in pint of warm milk, 50 tablespoons full of flour, put butter in last; bake next day.

This is an irresistible way of making little cakes: Beat a half-pound of butter with the hand, one pound of flour, one-half pound of sugar, one glass of brandy, cinnamon, bake in cups.—Chicago Inter Ocean.

Hungarian Goulash.

Two pounds lean beef cut from the lower part of the round or other cheap lean meat, wipe and cut in one inch cubes. Add the meat cubes to four cupfuls of rapidly boiling water, to which has been aded three slices of onion. Let boil five minutes, cover and let simmer until the meat is tender. Pare potatoes and cut in three-quarter inch cubes. There should be one and one-half cupfuls. Cover with boiling salted water and let boil five minutes. Drain and add to the meat fifteen minutes before serving time to finish the cooking. Peel twenty-four tiny onions and cook in boiling salted water to cover. Drain and add to the goulash. Cream three tablespoonfuls of butter, add three tablespoonfuls of flour and work together until smooth, then add by spoonfuls to the stock in the stewpan, of which there should be two cupfuls, stirring constantly. Season with salt and pepper and turn onto hot platter.

Orange Shortcake.

Sift two cupfuls of flour into a basin, add three teaspoonfuls of baking powder and one-half teaspoonful of salt. Rub three tablespoonfuls of butter and three tablespoonfuls of lard into the flour. Add one cupful of milk, and when thoroughly mixed divide in halves; put half into a round, buttered cake tin. Bake 12 minutes in a hot oven. Separate the upper portions from the lower portions of each cake with a fork. Spread with butter and fill with sliced and sweetened oranges. Garnish top layer with oranges and beaten cream.

Pepper Nuts.

Take four cupfuls of fine sugar, eight eggs, stirring them for nearly one-half hour. Beat whites by themselves; rind of two lemons, two teaspoonfuls of baking powder, flour enough to roll, two teaspoonfuls of cinnamon, one teaspoonful of ground cloves, one teaspoon of allspice, one grated nutmeg. Cut them into any desired shape and put two drops of lemon juice on each cake. Let stand over night and in the morning turn over and bake.

Banana Layer Cake.

One small cup of butter and two cups of sugar beaten together until light; then add one cupful of milk and four eggs well beaten, add three cups of flour, into which have been sifted two teaspoonfuls of baking powder. Bake in layer tins. Slice bananas with whipped cream.

Truth is simple, requiring neither study nor art. Reputation is not made, though sometimes it may be lost, in a day. Nearly forty years of business experience has proven to John A. Marshall & Bro., that it is healthful to tell the truth. Their success in the shoe business is due to their straightforwardness in business and in strictly clinging to an honest opinion about the goods they sell.

NEWS OF THE DAY.

How for seven days he dragged a sled overland in the frozen north bearing the body of a chance friend, who had died in his company, was told by James Wyman, a mining prospector, on his return to York, Neb. Wyman went to Canada in January to look for gold. At the start he met a miner who had been in the North country, and the two threw their fortunes together. After locating their first camp, the miner died of pneumonia. He had pleaded not to be deserted, and so Wyman decided to take the body back to civilization. "I strapped the body to a sled, with provisions to last more than a week," He said. "The body soon became frozen. At night I slept in a heavy blanket. In this fashion I traveled seven days when I came to a mounted police depot, and my friend was buried."

It is said that J. Pierpont Morgan owes his life, probably to Dr. Tribe's presence on the financier's trip up the Nile, and to the prompt and efficient treatment the doctor gave when Mr. Morgan was seized with a severe attack of spasmodic cramps in his stomach. As it was Mr. Morgan fainted repeatedly while the attack lasted, and afterward he was unconscious for several hours. As the cramps did not cease Mr. Morgan's relatives decided to proceed with him to Europe on the first boat leaving here. But on the day of sailing his patient was so weak that Dr. Tribe changed his plan —and Mr. Morgan remained at Cairo.

Arrested for a small series of forgeries, A. J. Heinn, founder of a manufacturing company of Milwaukee, gouged out both of his eyes with a small knife yesterday in Los Angeles, Cal. "I don't believe in suicide," said he, "but I shall never see daylight again or forge another check, and I am more at peace than I have been for some time."

The United Socialists in the French Chamberof Deputies, led by Jean Jaures, have decided to oppose the additional war appropriation of $100,000,000 demanded by the government. They demand in substitution for this proposal that the Chamber vote $130,000,000 for the public schools.

Apprehensions of a possible war between the great European powers appear to exist among the members of the Belgium cabinet and are shared also by the leaders of the opposition parties. The latter have been taken into the confidence of the ministry, with the object of making the pending increase of the Belgian army nonpartisan in character. Mr. Hymans, leader of the Liberals in the House of Representatives, declared yesterday. "Belgium in the event of the outbreak of war would become the battleground of Europe. The country must do its utmost to prepare for its defense."

THE OMAHA FIRE.

Two Hundred Workmen Searching for Bodies in Debris.

Omaha, March 1.—Estimates of the number of people who lost their lives in the burning of the Dewey Hotel here yesterday began to shrink today when the force of 200 workmen who dug into the ruins all night succeeded in finding only one body. It was the body of a woman, burned beyond recognition. The body was recovered early today after a large part of the debris had been cleared away. The only identifying marks were an earring and a portion of a fur coat. Some thought it might be the body of Mrs. Alice M. Bonniviep, sister of Mrs. C. E. Wilkins, proprietoress of the hotel. Mrs. Wilkins is in a hospital, and physicians said it would be impossible for her to make any identification.

The body of a man reovered late yesterday was identified today as that of R. H. Richards, an inspector at the stock yards in Omaha.
